LYRICS OF LIFE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE MAN YOUR BOY WILL BE.

YOU sometimes worry, wonder what Your boy will be a man, You like to look ahead a lot,
The future try to scan.
You hope he'll be a man in fact As well as man in size,
And so his every boyish act You watch with anxious eyes.

But do not worry—you can tell
The man your boy will be,
If he the truth will follow well You try to make him see;
You need not watch his nights and days In search of guilt or guile—You only need to turn your gaze Upon yourself awhile.

There is the place for men to look,
For fathers to inquire, Sons do not learn life from a book, They learn it from their sire.
The rule you make your boy obey Must be the rule for you—
The boy will heed the thing you say But more the thing will do.

It is not difficult to know
The future of the lad,
For he will very likely grow Exactly like his dad.
The life he leads as time unfolds, When boyhood days are fled,
Will be the life he now beholds—The life his father led.

THE GIRL ON THE JOB

How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good

By JESSIE ROBERTS

THE SAVINGS ACCOUNT.

NO BUSINESS woman ought to be without a savings account. If you spend all your salary you are trying yourself down, preventing yourself from being free to choose your work.

The first step toward saving is to know just on what you spend your money. Then you can plan what items must be cut down so that the savings is to begin.

Make out what seems to you a fair living expense account. Then study your expenses and see how they differ from that ideal.

Open a bank account. Put your money into a bank and check it out, and you will find it grows. Once a month take out as much of the surplus as you have decided you can spare and put it into a savings bank. As soon as you have gathered enough together to buy a safe bond, get good advice on the subject—your bank will advise you—and buy one.

If you began by saving 25 cents a week you will soon be able to double that. And that won't satisfy you.
You will see how, without cutting out essential things, and these include amusements and social distractions and vacations, you can save on in-essential things an amount that would have seemed impossible when you first started. And with it you will buy independence, security, opportunity. Can you buy much better?

OUR ONLY DOUBT.

HOWEVER far the birds you know

Away from you may wing, Whatever wintry winds may blow,
You do not doubt the spring;
At night you do not doubt the dawn Because the day is done—You know the spring will bring the lawn,
The morning bring the sun.

As old as is experience, As true as truth can be,
This lesson known to every sense And taught by bird and tree—
And yet a tale we must repeat, Each scholar, singer, priest,
For men who see the sun retreat Forget there is an East.

In sorrow's winter men forget, In trouble's hour of night,
That spring shall come returning yet.
To life the morning light,
They do not doubt the dawn, the day
The spring, the sun, the sod, They do not question Nature—they Doubt only Nature's God.

The Tender Feeling.

"My George is so sweet and tender!" she sighed, soulfully. "Today he told me he loved the very ground I walk on!"
"Yeah," interjected dad. "And this morning he was snooping around the record office to find out whether it was all in your name."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Hoof and Mouth.

Blondine—Isn't Bennie Beambrough the thick one?
Brunetta—He is all of that.
Blondine—I said to him, "Every time I open my mouth I put my foot in it." Brunetta—Uh huh!
Blondine—And right away the poor fah looked down at my feet.

PULL TOGETHER IS SUGGESTED BY ECONOMIST

many of them will pull for anything in which they are not interested.

I saw the other day a file of letters marked "As Others See Us." The promoter of a mining company, which has stockholders in every state in the Union and Canada, has for 15 years written letters of inquiry to people of the community where his mines are located, asking their opinion of the mine and its manager.
These letters have been sent to remote stockholders, copied and mailed from the stockholder's postoffice and signed by the stockholder. The responses are all in this file marked, "As Others See Us."

That promoter knows where every one stands, with regard to his propositions, and the attitude of most of them is: "I am more holy than thou!"

One minister of the gospel, wrote:
"Don't invest a dollar in that scheme if you have any money to invest send it to me and I will invest it with a friend of mine who has a wonderful property containing one of God's treasure vaults!" The minister did not get any money from the man to whom he sent that letter.

My suggestion is to lay off that attitude, and tell the truth about Tonopah and the mines and prospects, and if the other fellow does make a success, it will bring hundreds of others here and you'll get years when the crowd begins to come.

East of the Rocky Mountains business is very dull. Industries are shut down, and passing their dividends. Dividends are to the capitalists what the pay check is to the worker. The capitalist wants a job for his money that has a regular payday. The worker wants a job that has a regular payday. When the capitalist finds that there is no money when payday comes around, he does what the worker does, quits when he can't get his pay.

When money quits its job, in breweries, distilleries, tire factories, automobile factories, and other industries, where the dividends have ceased, it naturally wants another job where it can get its pay. In eastern industries the dividends must come from profits from business transacted, wherein someone must have money to buy or pay for the product of the industry. People must have money to buy, and pay the cost of production, plus the profit. Everything you buy is "cost plus profit," and when the masses haven't the money to buy, there is no industrial or mercantile profits. Capitalists will not invest their money in industries that cannot pay profits, and are therefore seeking a job where their money can earn a profit.

Income and profits do not from the ground do not depend upon anyone having the money to buy.

If you go back among the eastern businessmen and capitalists, you will find that they have divided all investments into four classes: First, income payers; second, construction and development in proven values; third, speculative possibilities; fourth, advised, nefarious, stampede excitement and wildcat.

In regard to the fourth class, a banker said to me last winter: "I don't want to put a dollar into anything where my profit depends upon my being able to find some one with money who is crazier than I am, and will pay more for it than I did. I have some bonds and stocks that pay steady incomes, and I do not want to sell these because I do not know where I can put the money that it will earn more. But I have a lot of stocks that have been passing the dividends that I want to sell. I know I cannot reinvest that money in income stocks because other people are just like I am, and no not want to sell income paying stocks. But I can invest in constructive and development enterprises that will be productive. In this class are hydro-electric power projects, irrigation projects, Portland cement and mineral development of known deposits. I am even willing to take some small part in speculative possibilities, like oil wells in proven districts or mining in a district where there is a chance."

Tonopah has mineral resources in the first, second and third classes, and they are all worthy of investigation and exploitation. Because some one has interests in the first class or second class is no reason why they should discredit the possibility of others. Even the biggest property, started in either the third or fourth class, and just because it has outgrown its swaddling clothes, is no reason why they should discredit the efforts of those who are digging in the sagebrush. They should remember that their own property was once a hard pasture.

Nobody wants mining stock just because it is stock, but everybody wants an income. You don't buy soup because you want soup, you buy it because you want cleanliness. The eastern mounted man wants an income from his money and will buy any old kind of a stock, even if it is a shingle. If it will advance him of a safe return of his investment, plus a profit. This most of the money in Tonopah can do. If the eastern people only realized this, another of developments in and around southern Nevada. If the people would only pull together instead of pulling to pieces, the eastern enterprises would be investigating this section in drives.

The get rich quick schemes of selling stockbooks as soap to furnish cleanliness, or stock certificates in companies where entire assets are in an eastern office building, will find that the crazy people have all been killed dry long ago, during the last few years of wild extravagance and incompetent finance.
